

Get Paid to Live the Writer's Life Today

---

Forbes calls it the # 1 Opportunity Worth
Quitting Your Job For This Year
And It's Never Been Easier...

Dear Reader,

Imagine...You wake up in the morning, stretch, and pour that first cup of coffee. A secret smile steals over your face as you take a sip and look out the window to the beautiful morning that is forming right in front of you.

You're not happy just because of the great coffee or a good night's sleep.

You're happy because you're in control of your day, your life.

You aren't about to rush to your car and leave your family for a long day at the office, answering to a boss that probably knows less than you about your job.

You aren't about to fight traffic for an hour as the blood pounds in your temples and a headache forms.

Instead, you are about to walk to your office in your bare feet, right there in your own home.

And, if you want....you can work at the beach, at a tiny table in your favorite little café, or from anywhere in the world.

All because you get paid to write – and paid well.

What's even better? This is not a dream.

Becoming a well-paid writer has never been easier than now.

In fact, Forbes called this opportunity the # 1 reason to quit your job.

So, what are you waiting for?

You can join the ranks of writers making:

- $300-$500 to write a blog post.
- $2,000 to write a success story
- $250 + for an email
- $5,000 or more to write a simple letter

Writers just like you are doing it every day and making six-figures or even more.

Paul Hollingshead makes $300,000 to $400,000 every year writing letters.

And, he's a self-proclaimed "Lazy Guy".

Joshua Boswell went from $200,000 in debt, supporting a family of 11 to debt-free and a six-figure income in less than 12 months.

But, they're not special.

Paul and Joshua would be the first to tell you that they are just ordinary people, like you and me.

They didn't get where they are because of who they know or some great in-born talent.

They found the secret to making money writing.

Too many writers think that you have to be a great novelist (think Stephen King) and get a big break from a publisher to make a living writing.

Others believe all writers starve and make $10 an article writing for those nightmare content mills.

$10 for an article, you've got to be kidding me.

A little-known type of writing that pays big

The truth is that there is a much easier way to earn a good living or even just extra money for your retirement by writing.

But, not many people have heard of it.

It's called copywriting.

And, it has nothing to do with that little letter "C" you see on things you read.
